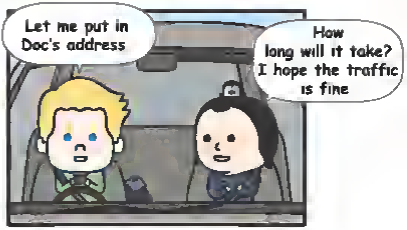
In the UK

There Was No Other Way

As the end of the year was coming, Mev decided to go to see his uni friends.

So he was set to be away in Liverpool for 2 days.



First, Mev needed to go to one of his friends, Doc's home where was half way to Liverpool from our home.

And then Doc would drive to Liverpool.

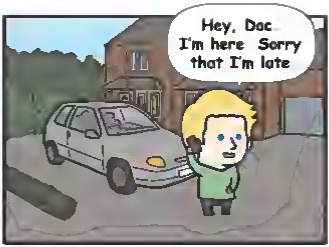
After 15 minutes.

At that moment

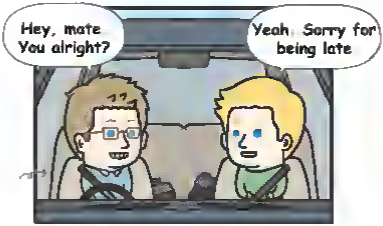
Mev suddenly stopped the cor.

And he turned his handle towards home.

2 hours later.



Mev arrived at the meeting point.



Doc started to nag Mev that he was late.

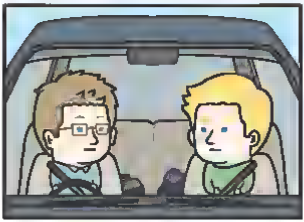
You must have overslept. Am I wrong?

There was no way. I needed to go back home.

Why?

Mev told him.

Because I forgot to pack my sleeping clothes.



After Doc heard Mev's answer.

Doc didn't make any more comments.
